

LING 5393-001: Internship in TESOL

Fall 2018

Instructor: Dr. Suwon Yoon

Office Hours: Wed.1-2PM. (by appointment, online meetings)

Email: suwon.yoon@uta.edu (preferred method of contact)

Faculty profile: <https://www.uta.edu/profiles/suwon-yoon>

Time and Place of Class Meetings:

We will not meet regularly as a group for this class. Instead, students will spend time teaching their own classes and then should each submit all their assignments via Blackboard by the dates specified in the course schedule.

Description of Course Structure:

In essence, this course may be different for every student enrolled. While we will have some assignments with set due dates, there is some flexibility involved due to the variety of teaching assignments that students will be taking on. However, if you choose to request an alternate date or assignment, you must discuss this with Suwon Yoon no later than one week before an assignment is due. If you will not be teaching for at least 10 weeks, an alternate schedule should be discussed as well.

Each student is also expected to meet with the instructor at least 2 times during the semester. Students are encouraged to contact Suwon Yoon regarding any issues, problems, or triumphs that they wish to discuss, but this is not strictly required. In addition to the set office hour slot, Suwon Yoon is available for appointments as needed. Because students are teaching in various parts of town, and we do not have a set time when everyone is on campus, Suwon Yoon is also available to meet via email or virtual/online (Skype). Please email to arrange appointments as needed.

Description of Course Content:

This class is a required part of the undergraduate TESOL Certificate. It consists of an internship (paid or unpaid) supervised by a faculty internship coordinator, with the student performing duties related to the academic curriculum of TESOL. Students are required to submit an approved academic project related to the work performed. May be repeated with approval of the Undergraduate Advisor.

Student Learning Outcomes: By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- (1) Critically evaluate their own teaching in order to refine their individual teaching styles and to develop the skill of self-assessment.
- (2) Develop problem-solving strategies for real-world classroom situations in order to practically prepare themselves for the workplace.
- (3) Critically evaluate more experienced ESL teachers in order to learn and benefit from those who are already in the workplace.
- (4) Reflect on their own workplace readiness based on feedback from the instructor, peers, and colleagues
- (5) Create a professional resume and statement of teaching philosophy appropriate for advertised TESOL positions.

Required Textbooks and Other Course Materials:

No textbook is required for this course. Optional readings will be posted in Blackboard on occasion. (Go to <https://elearn.uta.edu/>)

Attendance:

At the University of Texas at Arlington, taking attendance is not required. Rather, each faculty member is free to develop his or her own methods of evaluating students' academic performance, which includes establishing course-specific policies on attendance. According to the instructor of this section and in accordance with the service contribution expected of the internship, students are required to attend all of their promised volunteer teaching hours. If students have committed to a specific organization, it is their responsibility to make arrangements to notify the organization should they not be able to meet their agreed-upon appointments. (Remember that each student is representing UTA in our community. No-showing not only reflects poorly on the UTA student, but also on our department and university as a whole.)

Late Work Policy:

Assignments may be submitted early if desired. Late assignments will be accepted, but (unless otherwise noted) will be assessed a late penalty of one (1) point per each day that they are late, unless the students as requested and received an extension, or arranged for an alternative assignment.

Grading Components of the Internship

Below you will find the weighted percentage of each of the course components. Students are expected to keep track of their performance throughout the semester and seek guidance from available sources (including the instructor) if their performance drops below satisfactory levels; see "Student Support Services," below.

9%	What you've learned about yourself as a teacher overall

Descriptions of Major Assignments:

60 Hours of Volunteer Teaching (40% of overall grade)

This course requires 60 hours of ESL/EFL teaching (including a minimum of 45 hours of classroom instruction; the other 15 hours may include documented preparation and lesson planning, required trainings, etc.) You will be collaborating with an approved organization to teach ESL classes. If you do not already have a location in mind, please contact Suwon Yoon immediately. She will work with you to find an organization that we have collaborated with in the past that should be a good fit for you.

This teaching part of your grade will include submission of weekly hour updates, a final hours log, and verified completion of your teaching hours. You should record your hours on a log that includes date, time, place, and what class you taught/observed. This log will be submitted at the end of the semester along with verification from your organization/supervisor. A log will be provided, but feel free to create your own to best fit your own teaching situation if needed.

Reflections (40% of overall grade)

You will have 6 reflections due over the course of the semester. Each reflection should be around 500 words (with the exception of the final Summary Reflection which should be 600-800), an uploaded to Blackboard by the date indicated. Note that reflections should not include just a summary of what happened in class, but should show some thought and critical reflection of what YOU have learned about yourself, about teaching, about students, or about second language acquisition.

Reflection 1: Pre-service Reflection:

Your first reflection, due no later than the end of the first week of class (i.e. by Sept. 2), is reflection on what you yourself want to get out of this internship class. What do you seek to learn about yourself? About your students? About teaching in general? About teaching ESL specifically?

Reflection 2: Teaching Observation 1

For this observation, you should seek out an ESL course that is conducted by an experienced instructor. These courses can either be at the same location where you are teaching, or at another approved location. You will observe at least an hour of class time, and then reflect on the experience about what you learned from observing this instructor. Note that if you need help finding a place to observe. You must talk with Suwon Yoon about this no later than the end of the first week of class!

Reflection 3: Watching your self teach

For this observation you must video record yourself teaching at your partner organization (30-45 minutes of continuous recording is expected for this.) You will then watch the video and reflect on your strengths and weaknesses as illustrated by the video. You will also be asked to respond to a series of question meant to help you analyze the lesson itself, student interaction, and your general teaching style. The video must be submitted to Suwon Yoon, preferable as a YouTube link (you can set the upload to be private and only viewable by you and your professor), along with the written reflection. Note that this assignment is listed as due in Week 4, but it must be completed between your 10th and 20th hour of teaching. If this will not be in week 4, talk to Suwon Yoon ASAP!

Reflection 4: Feedback follow up

Two weeks after your meeting with Suwon Yoon about your video, you should submit a reflection discussing how your self-observation and the feedback from her (and peers/colleagues if you chose to share with them) has impacted your teaching. What are you doing different as a result of this observation, and how is it affecting your class? Why do you think this?

Reflection 5: Teaching Observation 2

Now that you have had a chance to get to know your students and organization, you need to see how other teachers handle this same population. Ask a colleague at the same organization where you are working to allow you to observe their class for an hour or so. Afterward, reflect on your experience. In what ways does this teacher handle the students in the same way you would? In what ways does this teacher handle things differently? Any surprises?

Reflection 6: Summary Reflection

At the end of this course, you will be asked to synthesize the things you have learned throughout the semester and to comment on the new insights you have gleaned. The summary reflection should be 600-800 words will constitute the last your six reflections. Because of the nature of this reflection, please do NOT submit this assignment until all your teaching hours have been completed.

Resume and Teaching Statement

Two of the most common items requested for teaching positions are a Resume and a Statement of Teaching Philosophy. As a requirement for this course, you will think through, create, and revise your teaching statement. You will also submit a resume that you have created with the help of the university career center, feedback from Suwon Yoon and other TESOL professionals or other sources. Initial versions of both will be submitted by Sept. 26 in order to receive feedback with Suwon Yoon when you meet (by week 9). These can then be revised and re-submitted no later than Wednesday, Nov. 21. A part of your grade will be responding to feedback as you revise.

Each student's feedback via the SFS database is aggregated with that of other students enrolled in the course. Students' anonymity will be protected to the extent that the law allows. UT Arlington's effort to solicit, gather, tabulate, and publish student feedback is required by state law and aggregate results are posted online.
