Jazz Style and Analysis
Spring 2012 Syllabus

Professor Dan Cavanagh
Office: FA 367
(817) 272-1107
cavanagh@uta.edu

Description: An in depth examination of the improvisational techniques used by prominent jazz musicians. Topics will include transcription and theoretical analysis over different periods and styles in jazz.

Office Hours: Wednesdays 10 – 10:50am. Other times by appointment. Email the professor to set up an appointment.

Attendance: You are required to attend every individual meeting. If you must miss a meeting you are required to inform me and receive approval ahead of time in writing or email. Unexcused absences will affect your final grade.

Required Materials: As assigned in class. All transcription audio must be obtained legally; checking out from the library, using online subscription service, purchasing physical or download copy, etc. Do not obtain transcription audio illegally.

Assignments: As assigned each meeting time. Final project and all significant assignments will be detailed during the first meeting.

Grading: You will be graded on the basis of your preparation for individual meetings, and on the quality of your written assignments. Percentages: 60% preparation/weekly. 40% final project.
90-100%: A; 80-89%: B; 70-79%: C; 60-69%: D; 0-59%: F

Makeup Policy: Late assignments are not accepted. If you have extenuating circumstances you must talk to the professor first, and the professor must approve of a change in due date via writing or email for any assignment or exam.

Student Learning Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Discuss common style characteristics of improvised jazz solos on his or her primary instrument during each jazz time period studied
- Thoroughly and efficiently develop and describe a sophisticated analysis of a transcribed jazz solo
- Draw comparisons and articulate connections between modern jazz performance and historical trends

Drop Policy: Refer to the UT Arlington drop policy for specific drop deadlines and further information.

Communication: I will on occasion communicate important information with you via email. I will use the email address you have set up in the MyMav system. You will be held responsible for the information sent there. Ensure you check this email address on a regular basis. If you need assistance with MyMav, you may contact the Office of Information Technology (<http://oit.uta.edu>). The University of Texas at Arlington has adopted the University "MavMail" address as the sole official means of communication with students. MavMail is used to remind students of important deadlines, advertise events and activities, and permit the University to conduct official transactions exclusively by electronic means. For example, important information concerning registration, financial aid, payment of bills, and graduation are now sent to students through the MavMail system. All students are assigned a MavMail account. Students are responsible for checking their MavMail regularly. Information about activating and using MavMail is available at <http://www.uta.edu/oit/email/>. There is no additional charge to students for using this account, and it remains active even after they graduate from UT Arlington.

Disruptive Student Conduct: It is the goal of the professor to create an environment conducive to efficient learning. If a student is distracting his or her fellow students and/or professor by surfing the net, talking, texting, etc., he or she may be asked to leave the classroom for the remainder of the period without warning. If the behavior continues or is repeated, the student may be referred to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs for disciplinary action. Disruptive conduct includes but is not limited to: distractions involving cellular phones, computers, and pagers during classroom lectures, excessive chattering, tardiness and blatant inattentiveness that distracts or disturbs the instructor or other students. For more information on disruptive student conduct, please see the Code of Student Conduct and Discipline in the UT Arlington Handbook of Operating Procedures, or visit <http://www.uta.edu/studentaffairs/conduct/>.

Cell Phone/Computer/Electronic Device Policy: It is not appropriate to text, email, surf the web, talk on the phone, or utilize technology in any way that is not immediately related to class activities during class time. The usage of electronic devices during class is prohibited, unless you are otherwise notified. You may take notes on a laptop computer. If a student is using an electronic device in a manner inappropriate to class, the student will be required to leave the class for the remainder of the period and receive an absence for that day. Repeated violations may warrant referral to the Office of Student Judicial Affairs for disciplinary action.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT: The University of Texas at Arlington is on record as being committed to both the spirit and letter of federal equal opportunity legislation; reference Public Law 93112 -- The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended. With the passage of new federal legislation entitled Americans With Disabilities Act - (ADA), pursuant to section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act, there is renewed focus on providing this population with the same opportunities enjoyed by all citizens. As a faculty member, I am required by law to provide "reasonable accommodation" to students with disabilities, so as not to discriminate on the basis of that disability. Student responsibility primarily rests with informing faculty at the beginning of the semester and in providing authorized documentation through designated administrative channels.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY: It is the philosophy of The University of Texas at Arlington that academic dishonesty is a completely unacceptable mode of conduct and will not be tolerated in any form. All persons involved in academic dishonesty will be disciplined in accordance with University regulations and procedures. Discipline may include suspension or expulsion from the University.

"Scholastic dishonesty includes but is not limited to cheating, plagiarism, collusion, the submission for credit of any work or materials that are attributable in whole or in part to another person, taking an examination for another person, any act designed to give unfair advantage to a student or the attempt to commit such acts." (Regents' Rules and Regulations, Series 50101, Section 2.2).

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES AVAILABLE: The University of Texas at Arlington provides a variety of resources and programs designed to help students develop academic skills, deal with personal situations, and better understand concepts and information related to their courses. These resources include tutoring, major-based learning centers, developmental education, advising and mentoring, personal counseling, and federally funded programs. For individualized referrals to resources for any reason, students may contact the Maverick Resource Hotline at 817-272-6107 or visit www.uta.edu/resources for more information.
